

20 April 2020

Dear Parents and Families,

It feels strange to welcome you to the summer term in these current challenging circumstances. I hope you are all keeping safe and well.

You may be aware that no date has been announced by the government for a return to school. Therefore, we are continuing to keep The Norman and Weeting schools closed, and Duchy of Lancaster remains open for children of key worker families, only where there is no childcare alternative. I am very grateful to the staff from across the Trinity Partnership who have been supporting our childcare provision at Duchy.

Your class teachers will have been in regular communication with you, setting work for your children. Please do respond and give feedback as much as you can as we would like to know how your children are getting on. You may also receive email or phone communications from your teachers from time to time.

Please get in touch if there is anything we can help you with, including access to home learning.

Take care and stay safe.

Best wishes

Owen Rhodes

Executive Headteacher
